PUBLIC ACCOUNTS COMMITTEE ITS ROLE AND FUNCTIONS

Dr Rup Narayan Das

The Public Accounts Committee (PAC) which was set up in 1921 in India is commemorating its centenary this year. It is the oldest Parliamentary Committee in the country. The fact that it has continued its existence all these years in spite of creation of a number of other Parliamentary Committees including the Departmentally Related Standing Committees in subsequent years speaks of its continued relevance in our Parliamentary system.

The rationale behind the Public Accounts Committee can be found in Article 265 of the Constitution which provides that no tax can be levied or collected except by authority of law. Further, Article 266(3) of the Constitution envisages that no moneys out of the Consolidated Fund of India or the Consolidated Fund of a State shall be appropriated except in accordance with law and for the purposes and manner provided in the Constitution. To put it simply, no money can be drawn or spent by the government without prior approval by Parliament or the legislature of the State.

The role and relevance

Parliament grants hundreds of crores of rupees every year for meeting the expenditure of various departments of the government and makes specific appropriation for this purpose under different heads. Financial sanctions provide checks on the dispensation of public funds by the Ministries and it is the prerogative of Parliament to ensure that the sanctioned funds have been spent prudently, frugally following due diligence. However in view of its size and complexity of state activities coupled with dearth of time at its disposal, it is not possible for Parliament to scrutinise, if the sum approved has been utilised properly or not. It has, therefore, delegated the task of scrutiny and control over the public expenditure to three financial Committees of Parliament, viz, Public Accounts Committee, the Estimates Committee and the Public Undertakings Committee. The Public Accounts Committee examines the accounts showing the appropriation of sum of money granted by Parliament for the expenditure of the Union government, the Annual Financial Accounts of Government of India and such other accounts laid before Parliament with their respective Audit Reports as the

CAREERS IN OPHTHALMOLOGY THE SCIENCE OF EYES

Nidhi Prasad

Yes not only perform the major function of sight but also banish darkness out of a person's life and fill it with colour. Conversely they are also believed to be the mirror of a person's soul. Optometry is a healthcare profession of measuring vision.

WHAT IS OPHTHALMOLOGY?

Ophthalmology is a medical branch which deals with the diagnosis and treatment of eye conditions. The term ophthalmology comes from the Greek language, ophthalmos means "eye" and luke means "doctors." It handles both medicinal and surgical solution of the diseases related to the physiology and anatomy of the human eye.

WHO IS AN OPHTHALMOLOGIST?

An ophthalmologist is a doctor specializing in the diagnosis and treatment of eye disorders." An ophthalmologist differs from optometrists and opticians depending on their level of training and what they can treat. There are different types of eye care professionals: optometrists, ophthalmologists and there is a third "O" among eye care providers: the optician.

Optometrist: Optometrists examine eyes for both vision and health problems, and correct refractive errors by prescribing glasses and contact lenses. Some optometrists also provide low vision care and vision therapy. They do everything from prescribing glasses or contacts for patients, to diagnosing eye problems and disease. Optometrists may also participate in your pre- and post-operative care if you have eye surgery performed by an ophthalmologist.

Ophthalmologist: An ophthalmologist is a medical doctor (MD) who specialises in eye and vision care. Ophthalmologists are trained to perform eye tests, diagnose and treat disease, prescribe medications and perform eye surgery. They also write prescriptions for glasses and contact lenses.

Optician: Opticians are technicians trained to design, verify and fit eyeglass lenses and frames, contact lenses, and other devices to correct eyesight. They use prescriptions supplied by ophthalmologists or optometrists, but do not test vision or write prescriptions for visual correction. Opticians are not permitted to diagnose or treat eye diseases.

If your eyes are healthy and don't require specialised medical or surgical treatment you should

100 CRORE COVID-19 VACCINE DOSES ADMINISTERED

WWW.JOBRIYA.IN

CONGRATULATIONS INDIA!

India witnessed the triumph of science, enterprise and collective spirit of 130 crore Indians when the country achieved the landmark milestone of administering 100 crore COVID-19 vaccinations in one of the world's largest and fastest vaccination drives.

The journey of administering 100 crore 'Made in India' vaccines - Covaxin and Covishield - to the citizens of India started on January 16, 2021 under the leadership of Hon'ble Prime Minister Shri Narendra Modi. Since the dawn of the pandemic, India has shown its commitment to protecting its citizens by taking on this arduous and formidable task involving enormous resources, unstinted support of the States/UTs, untiring efforts of Health Care Workers, Front Line Workers and proactive participation of all stakeholders. Immunization programme was being implemented in India, as in other countries, in a phased manner to cover the healthcare providers, frontline workers and the most vulnerable.

100 crore vaccine doses is an unprecedented accomplishment, and the world applauds India. Let's take a look at the journey of India's vaccination achievement. Here are the highlights:

29 November, 2020: The Government of India announced the third stimulus package of Rs. 900 Crore for the Mission COVID Suraksha - The Indian COVID-19 Vaccine Development Mission. This grant was to be provided to the Department of Biotechnology (DBT) for the Research & Development of Indian COVID-19 vaccines.

The important objectives of the fund were accelerating pre-clinical & clinical development; licensure of COVID-19 vaccine candidates that were currently in clinical stages or ready to enter the clinical stage of development, establishing clinical trial sites, and strengthening the existing immunoassay laboratories, central laboratories and suitable facilities for animal studies, production facilities and other testing facilities to support COVID-19 vaccine development. The other important objective was to support the development of common harmonized protocols, training, data management systems, regulatory submissions, internal and external quality management systems and accreditations.

3 January, 2021: Drugs Controller General of India (DCGI) granted approval to vaccines of Serum Institute India (Covishield) and Bharat Biotech (Covaxin).

M/s Serum Institute of India, Pune presented a Recombinant Chimpanzee adenovirus vector vaccine (Covishield) encoding the SARS-CoV-2 Spike (S) glycoprotein with technology transfer from AstraZeneca/Oxford University. M/s Bharat Biotech developed a Whole Virion Inactivated Corona Virus Vaccine (Covaxin) in collaboration with ICMR and NIV (Pune), from where they received the virus seed strains.

16 January, 2021: Prime Minister Narendra Modi launched pan India rollout of the first phase of COVID-19 vaccination drive. In the first phase of the drive, Healthcare Workers were prioritised.

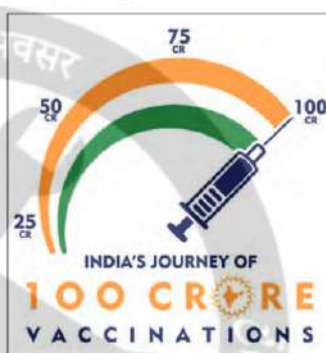

This marked the world's largest vaccination program, covering the entire length and breadth of the country. The Prime Minister said that usually it takes years to prepare a vaccine but here in India, in such a short time, not one but two made-in-India vaccine were launched.

2 February, 2021: Vaccination of the Frontline Workers (FLWs) started.

19 February, 2021: India crossed a landmark milestone - more than 1 crore vaccine doses administered against COVID-19. It took India 34 days to achieve the landmark feat, the second fastest in the world.

1 March, 2021: Commencement of the next phase of COVID-19 vaccination for those who are over 60 years of age and for people aged 45 and above with specified co-morbidities. The Prime Minister also took his first dose of the COVID-19 vaccine at AIIMS New Delhi. In a tweet, he said, "Took my first dose of the COVID-19 vaccine at AIIMS. Remarkable how our doctors and scientists have worked in quick time to strengthen the global fight against COVID-19. I appeal to all those who are eligible to take the vaccine. Together, let us make India COVID-19 free!"

10 April 2021: India becomes the fastest country to administer 100 million (10 crore) doses of COVID-19 vaccine. India achieved the feat in 85 days.

13 April, 2021: Russia's Sputnik V approved for emergency use in India. Government authorises foreign-produced COVID vaccines with emergency approval of WHO-listed agencies

30 April 2021: Drone use permission granted to ICMR for study of Vaccine delivery using drones and conditional exemption to the Government of Telangana for conducting experimental Beyond Visual Line of Sight (BVLOS) drone flights for delivery of vaccines.

1 May, 2021: The Liberalised and Accelerated Phase-3 Strategy of COVID-19 Vaccination came into force.

13 May, 2021: The gap between two doses of Covishield Vaccine extended from 6-8 weeks to 12-16 weeks based on recommendation of COVID Working Group chaired by Dr N K Arora. Based on the available real-life evidences, particularly from UK, the COVID-19 Working Group agreed for increasing the dosing interval to 12-16 weeks between two doses of Covishield vaccine.

2 July, 2021: Pregnant Women became eligible for COVID-19 Vaccination after Dr. N.K. Arora's, Chairperson of the COVID-19 Working Group of the National Technical Advisory Group on Immunization (NTAGI), recommendations. 2.27 lakh pregnant women received COVID-19 Vaccines in less than a month (till 30 July, 2021).

13 August, 2021: First nasal vaccine developed by Bharat Biotech supported by Department of Biotechnology, Biotechnology Industry Research Assistance Council (DBT-BIRAC) gets nod of regulator for Phase 2 Trial. Bharat Biotech's intranasal vaccine was the first nasal vaccine that received the regulatory approval for Phase 2 trials. BBV154 is an intranasal replication-deficient chimpanzee adenovirus SARS-CoV-2 vectored vaccine. BBIL has in-licensed technology from Washington University in St Louis, USA.

20 August, 2021: Zydus Cadila received approval for Emergency Use Authorization (EUA) from the DCGI for ZyCoV-D, the world's first and India's indigenously developed DNA-based vaccine for COVID-19 to be administered in humans including Children 12 years and above. Developed in partnership with the Department of Biotechnology, Government of India under the 'Mission COVID Suraksha' and implemented by BIRAC, ZyCoV-D has been supported under COVID-19 Research Consortia through National Biopharma Mission for Preclinical studies, Phase I and Phase II Clinical Trials and under the Mission COVID Suraksha for Phase III Clinical Trial.

13 September, 2021: India's cumulative COVID-19 vaccination Coverage exceeds 75 crore shots.

17 September, 2021: Highest ever vaccination figure of 2.5 crore doses administered in a single day making India's Cumulative COVID-19 Vaccination Coverage cross the 79 crore mark.

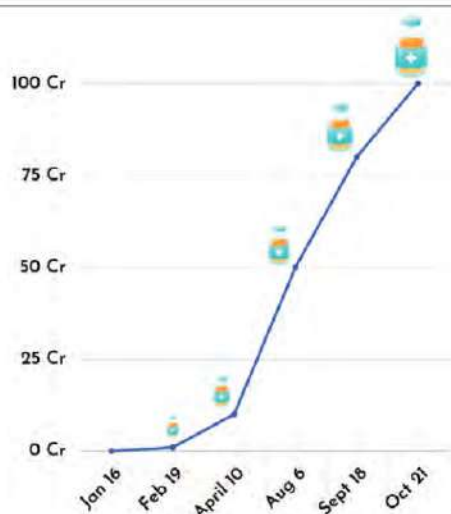

4 October, 2021: Shri Mansukh Mandavlya, Union Minister for Health and Family Welfare launched ICMR's Drone Response and Outreach in North East (i-Drone). This is a delivery model to make sure that life-saving vaccines reach everyone. First time in South Asia, a "Make in India" drone used to transport COVID-19 vaccines over an aerial distance of 15 kms in 12-15 min.

15 October, 2021: Himachal Pradesh's Kinnaur becomes the first fully vaccinated district in the country.

21 October 2021: 100 crore mark reached.

PUBLIC ACCOUNTS COMMITTEE : ITS ...

Committee may deem appropriate.

Composition

The Public Accounts Committee consists of not more than 22 members comprising 15 members who are elected by the Lok Sabha every year from among its members according to the principle of proportional representation by a single transferable vote and not more than 7 members of the Rajya Sabha to be nominated by that House. The Chairman of the Committee is appointed by the Speaker, Lok Sabha from amongst its members.

Chairman traditionally belongs to Opposition

The PAC has to ascertain that due diligence is scrupulously observed in such public spending. It is significant to note that since 1967, an important member belonging to Opposition Party has been appointed as the Chairman of PAC. Veteran Parliamentarians like M.R. Masani, Atal Behari Vajpayee, Jyotirmay Basu, Professor Hiren Mukherjee, Narasimha Rao, T.A. Pai, R. Venkat Raman, Jaswant Singh, Dr. Murali Manohar Joshi, just to name a few have occupied the position and discharged the responsibility with great distinction.

In scrutinising the Appropriation Accounts of the Government of India and the Reports of the C&AG, the PAC have to satisfy:

- (a) That the money shown in the accounts as having been disbursed were legally available for and applicable to the service or purpose to which they have been applied or charged.

- (b) That the expenditure conforms to the authority which govern it; and
- (c) That every re-appropriation has been made in accordance with the provisions made in this behalf under rules framed by competent authority.

Role of Comptroller & Auditor General

In discharging its responsibility to scrutinise the public expenditure and to ascertain if due diligence has been exercised in incurring such expenditure, the Public Accounts Committee is guided by the Comptroller and Auditor General, who is regarded as the 'friend, philosopher and guide of the Committee'. Article 151 of the Constitution requires the Comptroller and Auditor General of India to submit its report(s) on the accounts of the Union and State governments to the President or Governor as the case may be who will cause them to be laid before the Parliament or the State Legislature. The Audit Reports, Finance Accounts and Appropriation accounts after they are presented to the Parliament or State legislature stand referred to the Public Accounts Committee, which takes cognizance with the reports of C&AG. The PAC has, however, inherent powers for critique of the nation's finances. So its mandate is broad and comprehensive; of course it should not override the jurisdiction of sister Parliamentary Committees.

The Committee, on its own, on some occasions in the past initiated enquiries into various irregularities which were made public even though no formal Audit Report was presented to the House on the subject and it is within the power of the PAC to initiate such enquiries suo moto. Although the Committee is not concerned with questions of policy of the government, if the Committee finds during evidence that a particular policy is not yielding the desired results or is leading to waste, it is open to the Committee to report to the House that a change in the policy is called for.

Since 1962-63, the Committee has also started examining the revenue receipts of the Government of India. If any money has been spent by the Government on any service during the financial year in excess of the amount granted by Parliament for that purpose, the Committee examines with reference to the facts of each case the circumstances leading to such an excess and presents a report thereon to the House. In recent years, the activities of the government have increased many fold, particularly with regard to public welfare measures resulting in huge investment. More over due to technological advancement, the economy has become more complex. All these developments are challenges before the government, the Parliament and the Public Accounts Committee.

Effectiveness

The recommendations of the Committee have far reaching effect in toning up financial administration. Implementation of its recommendations by the government is watched seriously by the Committee through the Action Taken Report. Hence the Committee is held in high esteem and most of its recommendations are accepted by the government and implemented.

CAREERS IN OPHTHALMOLOGY ...

see an optometrist. If you already have a medical eye condition - such as glaucoma, macular degeneration or cataracts - it is important to seek care from an eye care professional who is highly trained and skilled in monitoring and treating your condition. In many cases, this may mean that medical or surgical eye care by a specially trained ophthalmologist is required.

HOW TO BECOME AN OPHTHALMOLOGIST?

Aspirants who wish to specialize in Ophthalmology will first have to complete an Undergraduate course in MBBS (Bachelor of Medicine and Bachelor of Surgery), followed by a postgraduate degree in Ophthalmology like MD (Doctor of Medicine), and MS (Master of Surgery), depending on what practice they would like to build a career in

For MBBS (UG-level):

Aspiring candidates must have passed their 12th Board examination with a minimum aggregate of 50%. The core subjects in the said examination must be Physics, Chemistry, and Biology.

For MS/MD/other PG courses in Ophthalmology:

Aspiring candidates must possess an MBBS degree. Also, they must sit for PG-level entrance examinations and procure a good score in the same.

Courses available in Ophthalmology are:

- Diplomate of National Board of Examination (DNB) Ophthalmology (3 Years)
- Diplome of National Board - 2 years Postdoctoral Vitreoretinal Fellowship
- Fellowship in General Ophthalmology, Cornea, Uvea, Oculoplastics, Glaucoma and Vitreoretinal - Session starts April & Oct every Year
- Ph D Programmes in Ophthalmology, Biochemistry & Microbiology

After acquiring the MBBS degree, students can opt to pursue a postgraduate course in Ophthalmology, typically in either the Master of Surgery / Doctor of Medicine domain. Usually, either of these courses has some common curriculum which is aimed at equipping the student with knowledge and skills such as:

- Basic knowledge of the human body structure and functions related to the visual system, along with factors which may disrupt/cause harm to these mechanisms
- Ability to handle day-to-day ophthalmology problems independently, with full recognition of the limitations of one's clinical knowledge
- Understanding of environmental effects on health and familiarity with the epidemiology of common diseases in the ophthalmology field.

- Ability to integrate promotive and preventive methods with curative and rehabilitation measures in disease treatment
- Familiarity with and understanding of common eye-related problems occurring in rural areas where facilities are limited
- Familiarity with current developments and research topics in the field

National Eligibility cum Entrance Test (NEET): This is a medical entrance examination conducted at the national level for granting admission to students who wish to study medical/dental courses in the top government and private medical colleges in India.

WHAT DOES AN OPHTHALMOLOGIST DO? WORK DESCRIPTION

The roles and responsibilities of an ophthalmologist include diagnosing and treating all eye conditions. There are several ophthalmologists who are involved in scientific research on the causes and cures of an eye ailment. Several times ophthalmologists recognise other health problems irrelevant to the human eye and refer those patients to the concerned doctor for treatment. The responsibilities of an Ophthalmologist include-

- Providing routine care such as vision testing and prescribing glasses and contact lenses.
- Performing corrective surgeries, such as repairing injuries and corneas, and removing cataracts.
- Performing advanced surgical procedures, such as keyhole or laser surgery
- Diagnosing and treating eye diseases and injuries.
- Managing emergency eye clinics, outpatient clinics, or other specialist eye clinics
- Treating medical disorders that affect the vision through a holistic approach.
- Using therapeutic procedures and performing biopsies.

There are various kinds of ophthalmologists who are supposed to perform different roles for their patients and they are all responsible for distinct aspects of their patients' care. An ophthalmologist's employment can be divided into sub-specialties based on the topic matter. Cornea, Retina, Neuro-Ophthalmology, Paediatric, Uveitis, Strabismus, Cataract, Ocular Immunology, and Oculoplastic are some of the sub-specialties available. Aside from these specialties, ophthalmologists can be found undertaking a variety of jobs, as defined by the organisation with which they work. The authorities hire professionals based on the needs of the organisation. A teacher, a researcher, a technician, a sales and marketing professional, or a pharmaceutical expert are examples of these roles.

The sub-specialties are:

(1) Cataract Specialist or Surgeon: These are experts who perform the surgery to remove the natural lens and replace it with an artificial lens to reduce the problem of opaque or blurred vision faced by the patient.

(2) Cornea Specialist: This expert is supposed to perform a duty or performing treatments and surgeries to cure any injury, infection or disease caused in the Cornea, Conjunctiva, Eyelids and Sclera of the human eye. They must perform preventive measures to stop the damage any further and recover the injury affecting the patient's eyesight.

(3) Retina Specialist: These experts deal with problems affecting the Retina of the human eye. These problems generally arise due to injury or damage caused in the retina which may be due to retinal detachment or sudden flashlight or floaters.

(4) Neuro-Ophthalmology Specialist: An expert in this field handles eye problems linked with the human body's nervous system. Some major problems require the immediate attention of a Neuro-Ophthalmologist including optic nerve issues affecting visibility, the problem in controlling the movement of the eye, double vision, etc. For the study of both neurology and ophthalmology a specialist is required who is a master of Ophthalmology.

(5) Paediatric Ophthalmologist: Experts of this field work with any ocular problem caused to the eyes of the children. Some of the major substantial problems that Paediatric Ophthalmologists treat include Strabismus, Genetic Abnormalities, Amblyopia, Neoplastic Disorders, Conjunctivitis and Misalignment of the eyes.

(6) Ocular Immunology Specialist: The specialist is supposed to regulate problems affecting the immunity of the human body, due to which many eyes-related problem and diseases can turn up. These diseases may include corneal ulcers, uveitis, scleritis, or any type of inflammation in the eye. Doctors of these specialisations work closely with general physicians.

(7) Oculoplastic Specialist: They are experts of this specialisation that work to repair and reconstruct the eye. They deal with the surgery done for the problems in the eyelids and problems in the area surrounding the eyeball, including the orbit and lacrimal system.

WHAT ARE THE SKILLS REQUIRED TO BECOME AN OPHTHALMOLOGIST?

To build a successful career in Ophthalmology, a postgraduate degree is only one of many pillars necessary. For specialists in surgery, precision and plenty of practise are required, whereas in medicine, having a broad base of knowledge is necessary. Some of the other essential skills in ophthalmology include:

- Expert working knowledge of the diseases, functions, and anatomy of the eye.
- Strong physics and math skills and excellent medical knowledge.
- Good administrative and managerial skills.

- Good hand-eye coordination.
- Strong organizational, communication, problem-solving, and decision-making skills.

CAREER OPPORTUNITIES

People are terrified of losing their eyesight due to blindness. Nothing appears to be scarier than the prospect of going through life without the capacity to see. We all know that as people become older, their chances of developing eye disorders or other visual system difficulties skyrocket. This is no longer limited to the elderly. A profession in ophthalmology entails a great deal of responsibility. Ophthalmology is a medical discipline in which doctors and patients frequently establish long-term connections.

These connections are built on a great deal of trust. It's unlikely that a good ophthalmologist will ever run out of patients. The field is quite lucrative and offers a wide range of opportunities in specialist hospitals, research centres, government and private hospitals, nursing homes and private clinics, X-ray and ultrasound centres, government organisations, educational institutions and pharmaceutical companies.

A person with interest and curiosity about the human eye can pursue a career successfully.

The Coronavirus pandemic has forced the entire world to go into lockdown, restricting people to their homes and relying solely on technology to keep them connected. As a result, the amount of time we spend looking at electronic screens has increased dramatically. Since the emergence of work-from-home, these screens have become the single most significant factor in keeping us connected to our employers, not only for sustaining virtual social lives.

The demand for optometrists is predicted to skyrocket in the next years as people become more reliant on technology and visual media, making it a profitable career choice.

Upcoming trends

Current ophthalmic trends include lens implantation and cataract surgery, corneal and external eye problems, oculoplastic and orbital surgery, glaucoma, neuro-ophthalmology, refractive surgery, and a variety of other procedures.

PM Shri Narendra Modi's Mann Ki Baat 24th October 2021 - Highlights

- After crossing the 100 crore vaccine doses, the country is surging ahead with a new zeal; renewed energy. The success of our vaccine programme displays the capability of India... manifests the might of our collective endeavour. Our health workers, through their tireless efforts and resolve, set a new example...they established a new benchmark in service to humanity through innovation and sheer determination.
- 31st of October is the birth anniversary of Sardar Patel ji. On behalf of every listener of Mann ki Baat...and from myself...I bow to the Lahu Purush, the Iron Man. Friends, we celebrate the 31st of October as National Unity Day. Sardar Saheb used to say- "We can take our country to loftier heights only through our united efforts. If we don't have unity amongst ourselves, we will get entangled in ever new calamities". That is, with national unity, the nation has stature and has development. We can learn a lot from the life and thoughts of Sardar Patel. The Information and Broadcasting Ministry of the country has recently published a pictorial biography of Sardar Saheb too. I would want that all our young friends must read this. By this you will get a chance to know of Sardar Saheb in an interesting way.
- On 24th October, UN Day i.e. 'United Nations Day' is celebrated. This is the day when the United Nations was established; India has been a member since the formation of the United Nations. A unique feature related to the United Nations is that the woman power of India has played a large role in increasing the influence and strength of the United Nations. In 1947-48, when the Universal Declaration of UN Human Rights was being drafted, it was being inscribed in that Declaration "All Men are Created Equal". But a delegate from India objected to this and then it was written in the Universal Declaration - "All Human Beings are Created Equal". This was in consonance with India's age-old tradition of Gender Equality.
- We are proud of the fact that India has been a part of UN peacekeeping missions continuously since the 1950s. India is also playing a leading role in addressing issues related to poverty alleviation, climate change and workers. Apart from this, India is working closely with WHO or World Health Organization to popularize Yoga and AYUSH. In March 2021, WHO announced that a Global Centre for Traditional Medicine would be set up in India.
- On 21st of October, we celebrate Police Commemoration Day. On this day we especially remember our brave hearts of the police who have laid down their lives in the service of the country. Earlier it was believed that services like army and police are meant only for men. But today it is not so. The statistics from the Bureau of Police Research and Development show that in the last few years, the number of women police personnel has doubled. In 2014, while their number was close to 1 lakh 5 thousand, by 2020 it has increased by more than double and this number has now reached up to 2 lakh 15 thousand. Even in the Central Armed Police Forces, the number of women has almost doubled in the last seven years. Today the daughters of the country are performing even the toughest duties with full force and zeal. For example, many daughters are currently undergoing one of the most difficult trainings, that of Specialized Jungle Warfare Commandos. They will be a part of our Cobra Battalion. Friends, today when we go to airports, metro stations or see government offices, brave women of CISF are seen guarding every sensitive place.

- The role of songs - music and other art forms is major in developing the inner self of humans, in creating the path of journey of our inner self. The colours of one's art, culture, song, music must certainly be filled in Amrit Mahotsav too. During the freedom struggle patriotic songs and devotional songs in different languages, dialects had united the entire country. Now in this Amritkaal, our young people can instill this event with energy by writing such patriotic songs. These patriotic songs can be in the mother tongue, can be in national language, and can be written in English too. But it is essential that these creations reflect the thought of new India; inspired by the current success of the country, it should be such that fuels the country's resolve for the future. The Culture Ministry is geared to conduct a competition related to this from tehsil to the national level.
- The Ministry of Culture is also going to conduct a National Rangoli Competition. Just imagine, when a Rangoli related to the freedom movement will be created, people will draw a picture of a hero of the freedom struggle at their door, on their wall and depict an event of our Independence movement with colours, hues of the Amrit festival will also increase manifold.
- We also have another art form known as Lori. Here, sanskars are inculcated in young children through lullabies and they are introduced to the culture. Lullabies also have their own diversity. So why don't we, in the Amritkaal period, revive this art also and write lullabies pertaining to patriotism, write poems, songs, something or the other which can be easily recited by mothers in every home to their little children. In these lullabies there should be reference to modern India, the vision of 21st century India and its dreams. In the coming days, the Ministry of Culture will provide all the information related to these events. This information will also be available on the website of the ministry, and will be circulated through social media.

- The birth anniversary of a great icon and a brave warrior, Bhagwan Birsa Munda ji is falling on the 15th of November. The way Bhagwan Birsa Munda fought to protect his culture, his forest, his land, it could have only been done by 'Dharti Aaba! He taught us to be proud of our culture and roots. The foreign rule subjected him to countless threats and applied immense pressure, but he did not relinquish the tribal culture. He strongly opposed every such policy of foreign rule, which was detrimental for the environment. Bhagwan Birsa Munda was always at the forefront while helping the poor and the distressed. He also made the society aware towards eliminating social evils. The British government put him in jail; he was tortured to such an extent that he left us at the age of less than 25 years. He left us, but only in the body; in the public psyche, Lord Birsa Munda resides forever! His life remains an inspirational force for the people.
- Until a few years ago, when the name of Drone used to come up, what used to be the first feeling in the minds of the people? Feelings of the army, of weapons, of war... But today if we have any wedding procession or function, we see a drone shooting photos and videos. The spectrum of a drone's usage and its capabilities is not just limited to that. India is one of the first countries in the world, which is preparing digital records of land in its villages with the help of drones. India is working extensively on using drones for transportation. Whether it is farming in the village or delivery of goods at home; providing help in emergency or monitoring law and order; it is not long before we will see drones being deployed for all these needs of ours. Most of these have already started. Earlier there were so many rules, laws and restrictions in this sector that it was not possible to unlock the real capabilities of a drone. The technology that should have been seen as an opportunity was seen as a crisis. We decided that this mindset has to be changed and new trends have to be adopted. Which is why on the 25th of August this year, the country brought forward a new drone policy. This policy has been formulated according to the present and future prospects related to drones. With this, you will neither have to be entangled in the web of multiple forms anymore, nor will you have to pay as much fees as before. I am happy to inform you that after the introduction of the new drone policy, foreign and domestic investors have invested in many drone start-ups. Many companies are also setting up manufacturing units. The Army, Navy and Air Force have also placed orders worth more than Rs 500 crores with the Indian drone companies. And this is just the beginning. We must not stop here. We have to become a leading country in Drone Technology. For this, the Government is taking all possible steps.

- The efforts of cleanliness can be fully successful only when every citizen understands cleanliness as his or her responsibility. When I talk about cleanliness, please do not forget the mantra of getting rid of Single Use Plastic. Come, let us take a pledge that we will not let the enthusiasm of Swachh Bharat Abhiyan diminish. Together, we will make our country completely clean and keep it clean!
- All of you must be shopping for the festivals, but do you remember, shopping means 'VOCAL FOR LOCAL'. If you buy local, then your festival will also be illuminated and the house of a poor brother or sister, an artisan, or a weaver will also be lit up. I am sure that the campaign which we all have started together will be stronger this time during the festivals.
